Reading Questions

John Hick “The Road” Pg. 222

1. Does anything really depend on the choice between belief in God’s existence and not believing in God’s existence why or why not?
2. Do you think this is a good analogy of how we come too our beliefs about higher power why or why not?
3. When we turn the last corner of Life will it really be apparent who is correct?